THE UNITED STATES OF AMERICA

To all who shall see these presents, greeting:

Know Ye, that reposing special trust and confidence in the patriotism, valor, fidelity and abilities of John Henry Doe in the I do appoint him Second Lieutenant, Infantry

Army of the United States

such appointment to date from the first day of June nineteen hundred and forty-two. He is therefore carefully and diligently to discharge the duty of the office to which he is appointed by doing and performing all manner of things thereunto belonging.

He will enter upon active duty under this commission only when specifically ordered to such active duty by competent authority.

And I do strictly charge and require all Officers and Soldiers under his command when he shall be employed on active duty, to be obedient to his orders as an officer of his grade and position. And he is to observe and follow such orders and directions, from time to time, as he shall receive from me, or the future President of the United States of America, or the General or other Superior Officers set over him, according to the rules and discipline of War.

This commission evidences an appointment in the Army of the United States under the provisions of section 37, National Defense Act, as amended, and is to continue in force for a period of five years from the date above specified, and during the pleasure of the President of the United States for the time being.

Done at the City of Washington, this first day of June in the year of our Lord one thousand nine hundred and forty-two and of the Independence of the United States of America the one hundred and sixty-sixth

The Clemson Agricultural and Mechanical College of South Carolina

To All Who Shall See These Presents, Greetings:

Know Ye, that reposing special trust and confidence in the character, loyalty and scholastic abilities of John Henry Doe, and upon the recommendation of the Professor of Military Science and Tactics, I hereby appoint him Captain in the Clemson Corps of Cadets to date from the 9th day of September, nineteen hundred and forty-one.

He will therefore faithfully and diligently perform the duties of the office to which he has been appointed. And I do strictly charge and require all cadets under his command to be obedient to his orders as a Commissioned Officer of the Clemson Cadet Corps, and to observe and follow such orders or directions from time to time, as he shall receive from me or other superior officers set over him by the Clemson Cadet Regulations.

Done at Clemson, South Carolina, this 1st day of October, in the year of our Lord one thousand nine hundred and forty-one.

THE greatest world conflict happened in our generation. For the first time, our Life, our Liberty, and our Pursuit of Happiness was emperiled. During the time of peace, Clemson graduates men into the fields of architecture, engineering, agriculture, textiles, chemistry, and business. But during the time of world strife and conflict, as we now face, Clemson men are ready to render the greatest of any service which they can be called on to perform, that being to defend their ideals and their country. Far from hysteria, but taut with determination, Clemson cadets face the future.

OUR PART

Today we are at war. . . .
We are now beginning to see the value of military training and theory; the country is looking for us, the R. O. T. C. schools, to supply the ever increasing demand for military leaders.

Clemson will meet this crisis as she did so valiantly in 1917! ! !

This year as the last note of "Taps" re-echoes from the mountains, we, the graduating class of '42, become Ex-Tigers and Army Officers simultaneously.

THERE lives in the heart of every man a love that nothing can push aside—the love of a son for his parents. Their sacrifices make possible his opportunities; their encouragement spurs him to achievement; their congratulations reward his efforts. Though the memory of our classmates may dim, the memory of Mother and Father will deepen with the years.

While standing on the threshold of life, we, the Class of 1942, pause a moment to pay tribute to our mothers and fathers.

As we stand here facing a world scarred by strife, turmoil, and war, we will strive to uphold the ideals of these United States, which our mothers and fathers have long held to be self-evident.

SECOND BARRACKS

THIS is a candid view of the place in which we study and sleep and live. The first barracks was the first one here. It is the center of all cadet activity—the guardroom, the guestroom, the barber shop, and the nucleus of brigade administration. Crossing the gangplank we find the second barracks under which is the familiar clothing room. A little further on across another gangplank is the majestic third barracks, facing the Calhoun Mansion. These three buildings compose the group which we call the old barracks.

It wasn't long before our school had expanded to the extent that more and more room was needed. Out of this grew the quadrangle group, those four buildings back of the first barracks. The band seemed to settle in the sixth and stuck there.

This expansion caused the construction of temporary barracks which became known to us as the Barn. This was the little building pushed in behind the second barracks.

Then came our crowning glory—the Waldorf-Astoria. This was the eighth and last to be built.

. . . and within these four brick walls is half of college education and military training. We learn to get along and maintain barracks discipline.

OUR BUILDING PROGRAM

One who had not been on the Clemson campus for the past decade would hardly recognize this great educational center due to the numerous improvements and new structures added.

This year, as every year heretofore, new additions are being established. Beyond the recently completed field house will be a beautiful new stadium slated for use by the first of September. New walkways, extending from the Y. M. C. A. up to the first barracks, are now being constructed and others have already been finished.

A new water plant is nearing completion; and not only will the new addition prove beneficial to the College, but also to the community.

The cornerstone for the Little Theatre has been laid, and along with this are many other anticipated improvements if national defense does not interfere.

OFFICE OF THE PRESIDENT

December 11, 1941

DESPERO [illegible] CLASS OF 1942:

All who have come to know you may brand your class as one of Clemson's best. I think the fine spirit permeating the student body this year is due very largely to your efforts. In both your thinking and acting you have given appreciative cooperation to the College Administration and I want you to know that I hold your class in highest esteem and thank you for the fine consideration shown me personally.

Many of you will soon be called to serve your country. Having knowledge of the Clemson traditions and of your character and attitude, I am certain of your patriotism and your devotion toward maintaining the ideals of our country. I wish you great success and good health and trust that you may soon be permitted to return to civil life in order that you may serve your country by helping to solve its many problems.

With esteem and best wishes, I am

Cordially yours,

R. F. Poole

R. F. Poole, President

SUPERVISING the activities of the various departments and directing the welfare of the college in general is the Administrative Board. This board is fully aware of its responsibilities and has proved its alertness by securing new buildings, new equipment, and numerous other improvements. During the current year new walks have been constructed, and a new water system is nearing completion, which is all due to the untiring efforts of the board.

Future improvements have been planned, and all hands are eager to fulfill these as quickly as possible.

DR. R. F. POOLE
Chairman

..AND HIS BOARD

The immediate welfare of the student is under the direction of the Executive Board. This board plans weekly all student activities and conducts them in such a manner that maximum benefits are received by the students.

INFALLIBLE HANDS AT THE CONTROL

MR. HILL—OUR STUDENT ACTIVITIES DIRECTOR

HE MANAGES OUR BUSINESS AND AFFAIRS

Clemson is yet in its infancy—a young college, but growing and expanding rapidly. And more than a spoke in Clemson's wheel of progress is Mr. James Corcoran Littlejohn. Much credit must go to this enterprising man for our vast building program in recent years, which includes five new barracks, a new football stadium, the agricultural building, and numerous other additions. Never too busy to stop and chat for a few moments, he is a friend and advisor to every cadet.

STRAIGHTENING OUT ANOTHER PROBLEM

WITH THE HELP OF MR. HILL

Another important cog in the intricate machinery which makes up Clemson College is Mr. Hamilton Hill, Director of Student Activities.

Clemson is very fortunate to have two such capable men handling her finances. With such hands as these leading us and guiding us into the future, we are certain of our security.

From one of the lesser schools at Clemson to one of the most important has been the role of the school of textiles. From the Old Textile Building, the School of Textiles has moved into its new building which cost $475,000.00. This new building has four acres of classrooms. The most modern textile equipment is used in teaching the "lintheads."

The growing demand for textile experts all over the nation has caused the enrollment in the School of Textiles to have one of the highest of any of the schools at Clemson.

With the expansion of all the nation's industries due to national defense, the School of Engineering has taken on a new importance. The nation needs engineers and architects who are capable of carrying on the defense industries.

Since Clemson's School of Engineering is rated among the best of the nation, it is only logical that Clemson men are in demand both in civilian engineering jobs and as engineers in the army.

In addition to courses offered in Architecture, Civil Engineering, Electrical Engineering, and Mechanical Engineering, the School of Engineering offers courses in conjunction with major courses in Chemistry.

THE SCHOOL OF CHEMISTRY

Chemists are quite obviously needed for vital defense industries and for the army's chemical warfare division; Clemson's School of Chemistry, needless to say, turns out some of the best. It boasts a much strengthened Chemical Engineering Department and good laboratory facilities.

The Chemistry Building, with its shelves of chemicals and collection of rare rocks, is the bane of the "rat aggies" and the pride of the chemists. Doc "Rock," its prexy, is our chief weather prophet, and Professor Gee is our propaganda minister.

Clemson takes great pride in its Military Department, because it is outstanding in several ways. It is the largest Infantry R. O. T. C. unit in the United States. Clemson's R. O. T. C. unit has annually been rated "excellent" for a number of years.

We realize that "Knowledge is Power" and without proper knowledge of modern warfare the soldier of today is of no value. With this proverb in mind we are striving to make the most of our training to become Second Lieutenants in the Army.

The extension service is organized as a branch of Clemson College for the purpose of diffusing useful and practical information to the farm people of South Carolina through instruction backed up by practical demonstrations, publications and other practical methods. The extension service is supported by state and federal funds, and its services are rendered to farm people through county and home demonstration agents, one each of whom is stationed in each county of the state, and through subject-matter specialists representing the various lines of agriculture prominent in the state.

Among the principal educational activities of the extension service are demonstrations in field crops, livestock, dairying, poultry, fruit and vegetable crops, agricultural engineering, soil conservation, farm management, crop insects and diseases, marketing, and 4-H Club work.

Other council members are elected by popular vote. As a body they submit petitions to the administration; as a judicial body they study and officiate in all cases in the student body. 'FORTY-TWO

OUR STORY

The Class of '42—whose history is an epic of an era of transition in the world, in Clemson, and in ourselves.

The world today with so uncertain a future is a far cry from our freshman days of 1938.

Changes in the physical plant, administration, and enrollment are the principal factors in Clemson's metamorphosis. The persistence of the Clemson spirit of the Class of '96 in the larger student body today has fostered interests that have given us an All-American Taps and Tiger, that has made us nationally known in athletics, and that has spurred other student activities on to greater recognition.

Clemson has left her mark on each of us—the purposeful senior no longer resembles the undecided freshman who came here four years ago.

We who came to prepare ourselves for a place in a world of peace are now thankful that Clemson has also fitted us to take our place in the ranks of a world at war.

LARRY COKER,
Class Historian.

Last year we stepped into the role of stooges in order to rate the following. We really did work and deserved what we got.

As juniors, President Poole joined us as . . . Dr. Sikes, our president for two years, left us—but with sincere love and fond memory.

There were many new additions to the campus; we watched the school grow under our eyes.

Now we are seniors, dignified or not. A few of us made the Senior Platoon and received cadet appointments, while some of us settled down to the Special Units. From us were selected the leaders in military, publications, and activities.

The war broke out in the midst of the first semester, bringing out and arousing the old rumors again; nevertheless we took this in stride and continued to receive our training—so vital to national defense.

WE WILL DO OUR PART.

★ THESE ARE OUR REG-

LIEUTENANT-COLONEL J. V. SIMS

CAPTAIN W. F. GAFFNEY

CAPTAIN F. B. FARR

MAJOR E. H. EMANUEL

The men who are here to see that Clemson Cadets get a little knowledge of the gentle art of warfare along with the regular line of chemistry, calculus, and "crips" so that Clemson shavetails will be able to hold their own along with West Pointers. Their life is a hard one, for in addition to classes and drills and maintaining order they have to return 2,300 cadet salutes.

THE SPECIAL UNITS IN REVIEW

EYES RIGHT!

Clemson's parades are seldom excelled. In the spring we have the Moonlight parade for the Honorary Cadet Colonel and the annual parade on Mother's Day. The snap and coordination of the corps is expressed in the honor platoons in each class.

INSPECTIONS

Friday night rolls around too often for the frosh. Then is the time for cleaning out lockers and washing windows for Saturday's big attraction. Next day, amid last minute dusting and straightening of books, comes the "grande finale." After a brief interlude with the roll call comes inspections by colonels and majors and captains and "looies."

That's how we get checks and merits by our names.

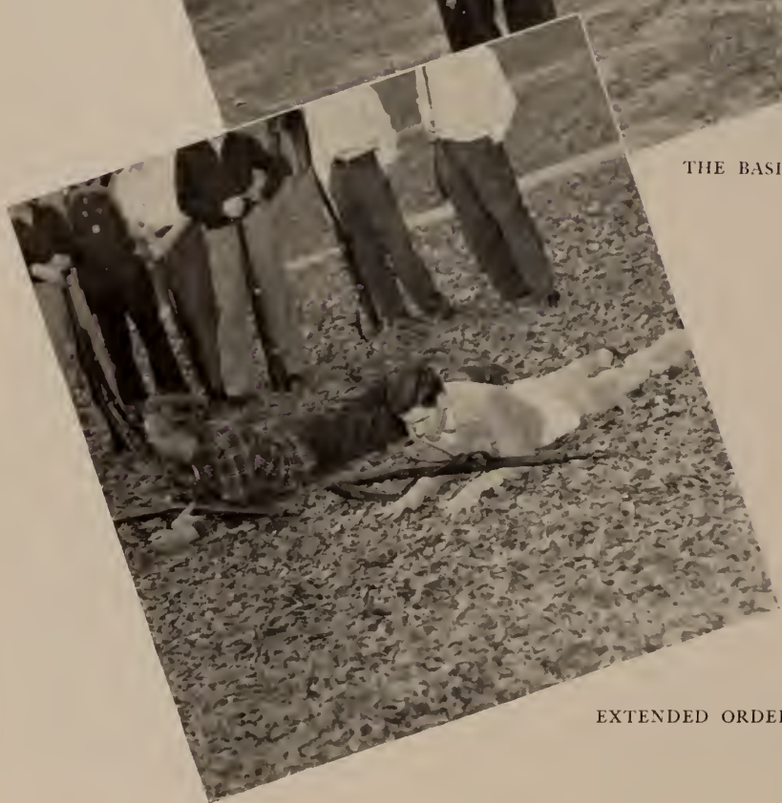
Toward Defense

FROM ROOKIE TO OFFICER

THE BASIC UNIT—THE SQUAD



EXTENDED ORDER

They take us out on Bowman field when we first get here and drill us in the elementary movements. After successive drills we finally get the hang of the whole idea so that by the next year at Clemson we are able to drill a squad by ourselves—self-consciously at first. By our junior year we are developed enough to take up machine guns and "stooge" for the commanding officers.

MILITARY COURTESY AND DISCIPLINE

ADVICE ON TACTICS

COMMAND . . .

Camp taught us enough to take over these commanding positions. We have been disciplined; now it becomes time to take our turn at training recruits. It means that some of us had to give calisthenics and others had to check up for taps, but it all was an invaluable experience that may prove its worth on one of the battlefronts of the world some day.

Blitzkrieg!

Under cover of smoke pots and fifth column activity, the city of Anderson fell. Pouring through the streets—seizing civil centers, overpowering the Home Guard, and smashing the National Guard—the blitz rolled on. In true Axis fashion General "Squarehead," the dictator, entered the city after resistance ceased. Time had changed warfare; thru this, we learned the truth of fire and movement, which we thought was confined solely to textbooks. This was the application of total war.

A PEEK INTO THE LITTLE BLUE BOOK

Once in just about every cadet's life he owns one of the little books, regardless of whether it is red, or black, or blue. In it there is a reliable source of information concerning every type of date from dainty debs to snooty snakes.

We have torn a few of the pages from the favorites' files and presented them to you.

THE Field House

PLAYBOY'S PARADISE

This is the land of jive . . . and of work. Before the chandeliers and gay decorations there is designing, preparation, and dismounting. Toil 'til A. M. hours and at odd moments make the hep-cats' paradise possible.

But once it's done, we come here for some of our most memorable moments. How about the selection of our Honorary Colonel? Or perhaps when Joe Jive and his name band kept us spellbound? Or, then too, when we first met the girl who softened our hearteries?

Without a doubt, we won't forget it!

IT CAN AND

To Head Cheerleader Jack Richards and Assistants Wylie Hogue, "Stud" Kellet, Mac McCarthy, Bruiser Bradham, and Aubrey Moore, was the task of keeping 2,300 Clemson cadets filled with "Tiger" spirit. These boys have done a magnificent job in keeping the twelfth man of the football team in the game.

When the spirit was at a low ebb, it was the yell staff who brought it up to unheard of fury as the stands would literally rock under the tremendous downpour of Tigers' screaming and stomping feet.

They instilled into each cadet's mind only one thought—to beat the opposing team. All labors are pushed aside and every Clemson man turns out to help the cheerleaders inspire the Bengal warriors to victory.

Our sincere thanks and deep appreciation is extended to them for a duty so ably performed.

MANAGERS.

The managers can well be considered the unsung heroes of a team's success. They are the first to arrive in the afternoon and the last to leave in the evening. Theirs is a long and hard task, but in the end they receive their just awards. To them a great share of the success of a team can be attributed.

OUR ALL-AMERICAN TRAINER

TRAINER.

Chappie in reality is the team's physician. He is loved by all the players and respected by every cadet. When advice is needed, he can give it; when there are aches, pains, and sore muscles, he can soothe them. No matter where the Tigers are roaring, Chappie is there as thousands of others, cheering the boys on to victory and taking care of them when they come off the field injured.

IN PREPARATION

Pre-season training began the first of September. Riggs Stadium was the center of activity as ambitious gridiron warriors started limbering up, preparing themselves to demonstrate their abilities to a very competent coaching staff.

After a week of preliminary practice in which all of the soft summer spots were removed, two weeks of grueling practices and scrimmages followed from which the nucleus of the 1941 team was formed. From about forty hopefuls, an eleven was chosen to bear the brunt of the nine-game schedule; thus another traditionally superlative Tiger football team began accelerating.

Football honors bestowed upon the Clemson gridmen this year were many, and all were justly deserved.

"Jumping Joe Blalock," the blond haired youth from Charleston, S. C., was selected All-American on many of the top flight news service teams of the country. Many magazine and sports writers also awarded Joe a first team end berth on their mythical elevens, and for the third successive year Blalock was chosen All-Southern by Associated Press.

Timmons and Fritts were also awarded All-Southern berths, and all three will long be remembered as terrors to the Southeast.

On December 27th Fritts and Blalock participated in the North-South battle in Montgomery, Alabama, and both gave a good account of themselves.

The team as a whole was considered one of the outstanding powerhouses of the nation. The Tigers were ranked first in the nation's punting department and eleventh in total offense.

THE TIGER CUBS

The Tiger Cubs compiled an enviable record as they captured the coveted freshmen South Carolina football title. Beginning with the fury of a mature Tiger, the Baby Bengals rode roughshod over the little Furman Breeze, 33-0. Following up this encounter in superb style, the Clemson lads trounced the baby Citadel Bullpups, 19-6.

In a traditionally hard-fought battle the Baby Cubs defeated the always hard fighting South Carolina Gamecocks, 19-7, after a rough and tumble fracas.

In out-of-state competition, the Clemson Cubs lost to Duke and N. C. State, but from these games a few outstanding hopefuls for next year emerged. Among these who will probably be future Tiger warriors are McCown, Byers, Barnes, Mulwee, and Clark.

VICTORY SONG

We're going to fight
For Dear Old Clemson
We're going to strive to do our best
We're going to fight for Alma Mater,
And the things we love the best.
We stand as one unbroken spirit,
And together we will win.
So when we roar, the world will know,
We're Tigers bound for Victory.

TENSE MOMENTS.

From two thousand throats
is the cry:
On to Victory!

AS THOUSANDS CHEER...

Clemson teams are always followed by many enthusiastic sports lovers of the Southeast. No matter whether the afternoon is sunny or cold and dreary, a colorful multitude of thousands of cadets and alumni assemble to inspire the Tiger teams to victory. Bengal spirit is always at its utmost heights on the day of the battle royal, and thundering cheers echo in the far distance. The yell section is as essential to the team's success as the team itself. Win or lose the Tiger supporters are always there howling their hearts out for the fighting Country Gentlemen.

Clemson's famous Senior Platoon is always on hand to take over during the half and to further amaze the many spectators with its many beautiful and coordinated executions and movements.

The basketball squad this year was not blessed with veterans by any means, but the men that did make up the squad were cagers that believed in fighting and hustling from whistle to whistle. The team showed sound coaching and exhibited many smooth floor games; their tight defensive play was always a feature. Even though they went through the season rather unimpressively as far as winning games was concerned, the spirit, fight, and willingness of the Tiger basketeers kept the opponents from winning by large margins. Even in defeat the Bengal cagers and Coach Norman deserve every credit.

Opening the season against the University of Georgia, the Clemson quint took a 39 to 31 lashing from a clever, fast-moving Bulldog five. In their next engagement the Tigers were downed by George Washington by 67 to 34. Pete Lambrakos and "Hawk" Craig did excellent shooting; the floorwork of Sears was outstanding.

Playing their first game at home, the Tigers entertained the Furman five before a capacity audience. Our team was nosed out 40 to 39. Chipley was our main scoring cog as he racked up 11 points. The following night N. C. State traveled to Clemson and handed the Bengals still another setback, 52 to 36.

The Tiger cagers next withered under the sharpshooting cagemen from Wake Forest on the losing end of a 58 to 40 duel. Craig shot 21 points to lead the scoring parade while Sears displayed excellent ball handling.

In their second encounter with the N. C. State cadets the Bengals lost an exceedingly fast fray 54 to 34. Sharpshooting by Graham and Sears put Clemson within two points of a tie-up at halftime; but in the last half the Tigers seemed to lack that certain stamina, although the Bengals staged a last-minute scoring surge.

A packed crowd of approximately 4,000 fans saw the Clemson quintet receive a 63 to 52 setback at the hands of Georgia. It was truly an exciting fray until late in the fourth period when the Clemson boys wilted slowly before the Bulldog onslaught.

The Tiger cagers next played the mighty Wofford Terriers but were handed their worst setback to date by the score of 57 to 27. We then dropped another encounter to William and Mary 54 to 28. "Mac" Moise and Captain Whitey Graham topped the Bengal scoring with eight points each.

The desperate, determined Tigers turned to their old arch rival, the South Carolina Gamecocks, and they suffered a stunning defeat. The final score was S. C. 62, Clemson 35.

It was against the respected Citadel cadets that the fighting Clemson team finally broke into victory. Perfect passing and shooting were the most potent factors in a deserved win. For the first time this season the Tigers seemed to be on the court at the proper time and place; they exhibited just the right kind of ball that is characteristic of Clemson—clean and fast. "Stick" Riley dropped 12 points through the hoop to be the top pointmaker.

Clemson next played host to the Purple Hurricanes and were outscored 56 to 42 as the Furman five unleashed a third-period fury that could not be checked until 18 points were slipped through the ring.

Playing the Gamecocks on the home court, the Tigers were determined to get revenge for their defeat and literally played all out, but yet again they suffered defeat.

The Tigers then traveled down to Clinton and lost a thrilling duel to a fast-moving P. C. quintet—53 to 27. The Blue Hose tallied first—never in the slightest danger of being overcome.

OUR CAGERS IN ACTION

On the night of February 23, the Clemson five tackled the Wake Forest Demon Deacons and were trailing by only two points at the half. As the contest for leadership progressed, it seemed that the teams were equal in power. In the final period the Deacons demonstrated their superiority by outsmarting the Tigers and loomed forward to an eight-point lead which the Bengals could not overcome.

The following night the Tigers once again engaged the Citadel Bulldogs and tasted victory as they unleashed their fury, shot from every corner of the court, and rolled up 36 points to the Citadel's 22.

COLVIN—155-LB. CLASS

. . . . AND IN THE RING

The 1942 boxing team began the season minus the services of such men as Warren Wilson, Edgar Ross, and Bill Smith; but three letter men, and a number of young hopefuls responded to Coach Walter Cox's call. From these a team was molded together—centered around Captain John Beckett and Co-Captain Jake Colvin.

The Tiger mittmen opened the season against V. P. I.'s Gobblers and dropped a close decision 5 to 3. The Bengal fighters however were cool and boxed well.

The feature of the meet was between Brown and Conference Champ, Andrews. During the first two rounds it was apparent that both fighters were boxing cautiously, but in the final round Brown loosed a barrage of rights and lefts that completely bewildered his opponent from whom he took the fight.

Other events saw Rogers outpoint Copenhaven, and Cone literally smother Wingfield with repeatedly hard right hooks.

In their next engagement the Tigers traveled to Charleston to engage the Citadel Bulldogs. The Bengals came out on the short side of the scoring 6 to 2. A T.K.O. was gained by Foster over Cone in the second round.

In the opening bout Rogers fought Hoffman to a standstill and refused to let the Citadel cadet's blows penetrate his guard. Captain Beckett completely out-pointed Williams to take an easy affirmative nod from the referee. In the unlimited Robinson and Rolison fought to a draw after both fighters had unleashed savage attacks on each other.

The Clemson pugilists drew their first taste of victory at the expense of the P. C. Blue Hose. The Tigers vented all their fury to win a 5½ to 2½ verdict. Rogers, Beckett, and Cone outpointed their opponents, but Presbyterian's Easly gained a T.K.O. over Brown, only after Brown had fought furiously for 2½ rounds. Teas also registered a knockout over Clemson's Jordan while Bruggerman and Robinson battled to a draw.

Never before has our team been without a coach, but this was exactly the situation when the Tigers encountered the Citadel Bulldogs in a return meet. The orphaned Bengals gave a brilliant account of themselves, being nosed out 4½ to 3½.

The feature attractions were Rogers' attack on Hoffman, Beckett's decision over Williams, and Blalock's mauling of The Citadel's Sammuson, Colvin lost a close and exciting fight.

In the 165-class Kennerty hooked up with the Southern Conference champ, Lempesis; but in the final analysis it was Lempesis who delivered the most decisive blows. Jordan, O'Brien, and Robinson also displayed a fine style of boxing.

Rogers and Captain Beckett proved their worth as they went through the season undefeated, while Colvin was one of the most improved fighters on the team. Brown, Cone, and Robinson should develop into the best punchers in their class; and no doubt they will become champions before their college career terminates.

So ends the ring season for the Tigers.

This year of 1942 found us in difficult situations. We had to give up some of the things that we treasure highly. Among these was the annual Southern Conference Boxing Tournament. In other years this space usually was dedicated to Clemson's pugilistic victories . . . this year, to the hope of more in the near future.

BROWN DEFEATS V. P. I.'S SOUTHERN CONFERENCE CHAMP

TRACK

The South Carolina track crown is becoming a permanent fixture for the Tiger cindermen. For the past eight years the Bengals have been ruling the roost of South Carolina track almost consistently.

The 1941 team was no exception; it returned from Clinton with the pennant waving jubilantly in the winds.

The Tiger cindermen opened the season with a smashing 94 to 32 victory over the Newberry Indians. Ralph Fennell unofficially broke the state pole vault record with a spectacular jump of 13 feet.

"Booty" Payne made his debut with the Tiger cindermen as he outdistanced Ingram of Newberry in both the 100 and 220. First places were taken by the Tigers in all events but the discus throw. Captain Walker continued his last year's rampage by taking the mile.

In their second encounter the Bengals proved too fast and powerful for the P. C. Blue Hose, and won the meet 85 to 46. The Tigers captured eleven first places in winning, and also took second place in more than half of the events.

Payne sparkled again as he took the 100 and 220, and Fennell again topped the crossbar at 12 feet. In the 880, Timberlake nosed out Goodman of Clemson in the thriller of the meet by a small margin of one-tenth of a second.

DOWN THE HOME STRETCH

OUR RELAY TEAM

Following up the P. C. victory, the Clemson tracksters kept their record unmarred by defeating Georgia 73 to 53. Davis of Georgia and Payne of Clemson ran a dead heat in the 100-yard dash. In the 220 Davis bested Payne in a nip and tuck dash.

Clemson took first in the 440, mile, two mile, 120 high hurdles, 220 low hurdles, broad jump, and pole vault. In the weight events and high jump, Georgia men were the victors.

In the next meet Clemson entertained the South Carolina Birds, and smothered them, 84 to 47. For the first time this season, Payne was outrun by Riley in both the 100 and 200; however, Riley had previously tied the world's record unofficially. Whitey Graham performed brilliantly as he took the 400-yard sprint. Walker continued his demonstration of exceptional ability by taking the mile, and Ivey leaped the farthest again in the broad jump.

The week before the state meet, the Clemson trackmen polished off the Furman Hurricane on Manly field, 87 to 43. The Tigers took ten firsts, and Jim Pasley was the high scorer for the Tigers as he took the only double winning for the Bengals. Braziel of Furman was also a double winner as he took first-place honors in both dash events. Furman's only other first places were the shot put and javelin.

DICKERSON LEADS THE FIELD

NORTON CLEARS THE BAR

The long awaited state track and field day arrived, and from the beginning the Bengals demonstrated their superiority. The Tigers gained an early lead, and that lead was held throughout the afternoon. The Clemson tracksters amassed 56½ points; South Carolina, 44; P. C., 23½; Furman, 23; and Newberry 17.

The most spectacular event of the afternoon was the pole vault. Clemson's Fennel leaped in the air over the crossbar 13 feet, 1 inch to better his last year's record by 6 inches.

Ivey placed first in the broad jump, Walker in the mile and two mile, and Pasley in the 220 low hurdles. Dickerson took second in the 440; and Beckett, third. The high jump proved very exciting, but Croxton of Newberry nosed out Morgan by a tenth of an inch. Second places were also captured by the Tigers in the 120 high hurdles, two mile, and one-mile relay. Third and fourth places were also acquired in two other events.

PASLEY COMES DOWN THE HOME STRETCH

Many exciting events were witnessed, but out of all the excitement only one new record was set. Fennell broke his previous record as he pole vaulted to a record we think will stand for a long time in the future.

So ends a very enviable track season for the Tigers. This year's team was a well-balanced squad with the power distributed equally. Ivey and Fennell were the most potent point-makers as both these men terminated the season undefeated.

This year's team was ably coached by "Rock" Norman, who deserves no little part of the credit for the Bengals' excellent showing. With him at the helm we predict a continued bright future for Clemson track teams.

BASEBALL

Early in March the hum of swinging bats and sailing balls could be heard on the far end of Riggs Field as the Clemson baseballers began practice. We had a generous supply of lettermen, a large number of ambitious sophomores, and a new and enthusiastic coach. The results of the season can well be explained by stating the fact that the Tigers captured the 1941 State Baseball Title.

In the first encounter of the season Michigan State topped the Bengals on a seventh-inning homer after Blalock had tied the score by slapping out a four-bagger with two on base in the sixth.

Coach Tom Rogers and his boys next traveled to Clinton to continue the season against the Blue Hose. A seventh-inning rally by P. C. resulted in five runs, and the Tigers received another setback. Captain "Dude" Buchanan and Blalock led the hitting department with two hits each in four trips to the plate.

The Tigers' next encounter was with the Georgia Bulldogs. Clemson's failure to hit in the clutches proved to be the deciding factor as sixteen men were left stranded.

A crowd of three thousand gathered at Clemson April 11, to see the Clemson diamond men break into the win column. Timely hitting and four-hit shutout hurling by Holliday led to the decisive defeat of the Furman Hurricane. "Ace" Parker was the most potent siege gun as he rapped out a homer, triple, and a single. Sophomore Robert Berry also knocked a four-bagger.

The Clemson nine followed up the Furman win with a victory over Erskine. Blalock and Anderson hooked up in a mound duel, but two errors in the ninth and Buchanan's triple gave us the winning runs.

The seventh inning proved to be fatal again, and the Bulldogs beat the Tigers in a tight defensive battle. Again Clemson's errors and failure to hit with men on bases resulted in the second loss of the season to Georgia.

Bill Byers of Furman won his own ball game over the Clemson baseballers 7 to 5 in the two teams' second encounter of the season. Buchanan's home run in the third gave the Tigers a one-run lead which was good 'til Byer's payoff blow in the eighth.

Next Clemson pounded Wofford's Calvert for 14 bingles and beat the Terriers into submission 10 to 1. Nine Wofford errors and three Clemson miscues marred the defensive play of both teams.

April 23 saw Clemson's stellar athlete, Blalock, out-maneuver the Gamecocks' Grugan in a pitching duel in the most thrilling encounter of the state to date.

The outcome of the game was decided in the first inning when Coakley reached first on an error, stole second and then scored on Belk's double. Buchanan followed up the blow with a long single which sent Belk thundering home which proved to be the deciding margin.

Clemson next pounded everything four P. C. hurlers had to offer and trounced the Hosemen 22 to 0.

The Tigers were then defeated by the Gamecocks in a close contest as its hold on the state top notch place was loosened.

Two more set backs were received by the Tigers from Erskine and Newberry, but the Tigers wound up the season with a 24 to 8 win over the Wofford Terriers.

Much praise is due Coach Rogers and his boys for the fine sportsmanship and playing ability displayed throughout the season.

The Minor "C" Club was organized to promote congeniality and friendship among the men who have been awarded minor letters in recognition of their excellence in the minor sports.

The minor sports include swimming, tennis, golf, and marksmanship.

Although the name, Minor "C" may sound rather insignificant, this organization is just as important to the sports it represents as the Block "C" is to its sports.

The 1941 swimming team was composed of an array of Southern Conference notables. The team, captained by Ben McKnight and "Hoby" Holtzendorff, captured the state title handily by defeating the South Carolina Gamecocks.

In out-of-state meets the Tiger tankmen gave an excellent account of themselves. Dysart and Holtzendorff displayed fine style in the free stroke, and Richards and Nesbit were unexcelled in the diving department. The team's strength would have been bolstered considerably had not injuries kept Martin and Gregory on the sidelines all season.

Coach Holtzendorff has always presented strong competition to the other conference schools, and with the return of Richards, Nesbit, Dysart, and Epps along with a few of last year's freshman squad, next year's team should again be the top in its field in national competition.

Under the capable leadership of Captain Miles Hunter and Manager J. E. Hudson, the Clemson College Rifle Team enjoyed a very successful season. After dropping an early season encounter to The Citadel, the Bengal sharpshooters captured numerous postal matches, and two shoulder to shoulder meets. Schools ranging from Wisconsin to Hawaii were engaged by the Tiger rifle artists and were usually downed.

Special recognition should be given to Captain J. B. Farr for his well-coached team.

Although the Clemson tennis team suffered greatly through graduation, Captain Howard Burnette and Manager Bob Kay led the Tiger racket wielders to a very successful season.

The team won 12 out of 18 scheduled meets, and those dropped were only by the margin of one point.

In the state race the Bengal racqueteers finished in third place. Burnette and Holtzendorff displayed tremendous drives, and by virtue of their alertness and speed reached the semi-finals in doubles. These two men also reached quarter-finals in singles. Burnette did exceptionally well by losing only four matches all season, and Holtzendorff dropped only six encounters.

Much credit is in order for Coach Hoke Sloan for his excellent coaching ability.

FREDDIE KIRCHNER
Director

Our intramural sports program has made rapid strides during the past few years, and this year an all-out effort is now in progress. The War Department has issued a request to all college students to participate in all forms of athletics to increase their physical fitness for the duty which stands before them. To meet this challenge the program has been expanded to its limits, and every conceivable sport is now being fostered.

Our President, Dr. R. F. Poole, is 100 per cent behind the program, and through the commandant's office an athletic and recreational officer is attached to each company who is in immediate charge of the sports activities for his organization. All of these officers work through the office of Freddie Kirchner, of the Y. M. C. A. Staff, who is director of all intramural sports.

INTRAMURALS

TENNIS

It is through the medium of intramural contests that numerous fine and life-time friendships are made. Tiger friendship is based on such associations as those made during intra-school activities. Through the program a large number of boys are placed in a position of leadership which in later life may prove very beneficial.

The intramural board is planning for the future, and 100 per cent participation by the students is anticipated.

This group started off much larger than it is now. Far more poured over the list of names and far more squinted over the tracing box while tracing layouts. To those who fell aside as the book progressed, we pay tribute; but greater tribute must be paid to those whose faces appear here. It meant toil, and we mean all-night blitzkriegs and endless afternoons.

That is what it meant to these for a position on next year's Senior Staff.

The Tiger is the official newspaper of the Clemson student body. Published each Thursday, it is distributed to the 2,300 students and to more than four thousand subscribers.

The Tiger has been rated as All-American for the last two years and this year was awarded a permanent trophy for being the best state college newspaper for the past three years.

The senior executive staff is in charge of planning, directing and producing the paper, as well as training the staff, as there is no journalism course at Clemson.

The aim of The Tiger is to "Roar for Clemson."

Publishing the state's largest college newspaper begins Monday afternoon with preliminary assignments and editorials being drafted by the editor. Then the entire staff steps in and gets down to business with columns, beats, and pictures.

Tuesday is almost entirely filled with copy writing, re-writing and headlining. Wednesday is the day of last-minute scoops and beats.

Wednesday night the paper is put to bed. Make-up men place stories and set streamers, lock the turtles, roll the mats, cast the plates, and presses begin to roar. Then, in 45 minutes, Clemson's All-State and All-American Tiger is sent to the circulation staff and relayed to students and other subscribers.

THE EDITOR MAKES A FINAL CHECK

In 1938-39 a long-felt need at Clemson was filled. An agricultural magazine was founded, and since that time it has grown to be one of the most active publications on the campus. It is unique in that it was founded as a subscription-free publication and is still maintained as such.

This magazine serves as an excellent and very effective means of disseminating news of South Carolina agriculture, and as an outlet for journalistic aspirations held by the students of the schools of Agriculture and Agricultural Education.

Thus, in its fourth year of life, the Agrarian has become a very important cog in the machinery that is South Carolina's greatest asset and industry—Agriculture.

Since its initial appearance in the world of textiles, the purpose of the magazine has been to deal with the textile industry, the textile school, and the textile student, linking them together as one.

The Bobbin and Beaker, strictly a student publication, depends upon its readers in mills and plants for the technical articles which are the life of the magazine. We, as students, can write only on general terms or correlate reading material. FRANCIS TYPES OFF AN ARTICLE

The Clemson Slip Stick is the youngest of the campus publications.

The idea for a magazine published by the students of the engineering school had been lying dormant for a long time in the minds of many of the faculty and students. All these ideas came to a head through the honorary engineering fraternity, Tau Beta Pi, in the 1940-41 session, and they sponsored the magazine in its beginnings, and appointed Jack Hartley, E.E. major, the first editor.

The present staff, with the November, 1941, issue, changed the name to its present one, and also the style of the cover. Three issues were published, and this will continue to be the policy of each succeeding staff.

The Clemson Slip Stick has but one main objective; to be of assistance to the students and faculty, inside and outside of the classroom.

To these men special recognition should be awarded for their efforts and many assists; for without their advice TAPS would hardly have become a reality. Mr. Littlejohn solves the business difficulties encountered. Every publication staff does not possess the opportunity of having such a friend and staunch supporter. To Mr. Hill we look for the latest information on cadet activities, and he is always willing to give freely of his valuable time to aid us in any way possible. Mr. John Lane is our literary advisor, and his criticism and suggestions always receive a warm welcome by the entire staff. Besides keeping Clemson in the headlines, Director of Publicity, Joe Sherman, supplies us with up-to-date data for the all-important sports section. To our own photographer, John Harvey, we are deeply indebted.

To these men we extend our deep appreciation for their unfailing interest and aid. Not only have they made sacrifices for the TAPS, but to each and every cadet who seeks their assistance, they always lend a helping hand.

In 1844, almost one hundred years ago, Sir George Williams brought together a group of earnest fellow workers, whose aim it was to make life clean. These men constituted the first Young Men's Christian Association.

Since that time, the purpose of the Y. M. C. A. the world over has been threefold: the development of mind, body, and spirit. This is the ultimate goal of every association today. Our specific purpose here on the Clemson campus is likewise threefold: to provide an atmosphere of happiness, to set forth the practical principles of the highest way of living, to give expression to a sincere devotion to christian service.

This program is carried on under the leadership of "Mr. Holtzy," the great heart of our "Y," with the able assistance of his genial staff, and with the counsel of a distinguished Advisory Board. Sharing the work and the responsibilities of an extensive program are the Evening Watch and Freshman Forum leaders on each company, the members of the Freshman, Sophomore, Junior, and Senior Class Councils, the members of the Cabinet, and many other interested students. The student body is reached not only through these groups but also through the Sunday vesper services conducted by visiting speakers and groups from other colleges through "open house" meetings, through special personal conferences, and through the numerous facilities which the building itself offers for recreation and entertainment.

Men of twenty years ago, some now occupying leading positions in civilian life, others holding the ranks of captain, major, and lieutenant-colonel in our army, write back of their invaluable experiences in the Association. Over the years, our "Y" has mellowed richly and yet, is as youthful as its youngest member.

Twenty-seven years ago, the building that we have at present was built to accommodate a student body of approximately seven hundred. Today, the "Y," occupying that same building with only interior changes, is attempting to do the job for a student body more than triple that number.

AROUND THE "Y"

Clemson's foremost asset! The primary moulder of all Clemson men is and has been for many years, the "Y". Here cadets receive a cordial welcome to come and enjoy many beneficial lectures on religious subjects which influence their future manner of living. Friendliness is fostered, and the many ways in which contacts are made all help to further the congeniality among the student body. Whether "pushing cue," taking a swim, or enjoying a free show, the characteristic high morale and true gentlemanship is ever present. Social get-togethers are held in the clubroom and at the "Y" cabin where many interesting discussions originate. These are as essential to a well-rounded education as classroom instruction.

No doubt that in the future the "Y" will play an even greater part due to the national emergency.

TAPS salutes the Y. M. C. A. for the magnificient job it has done in the past and will continue to do in the future toward building men of true Clemson character.

Tau Beta Pi, national honorary engineering fraternity, chartered the South Carolina Alpha Chapter at Clemson in 1928. Membership in the fraternity is based entirely on high scholarship and character.

Tau Beta Pi seeks to recognize those men who have conferred honor upon their Alma Mater by distinguished scholarship and exemplary character as under-graduate students, or by their attainment as alumni.

Students who are marked by the Bent of Tau Beta Pi inevitably become the leaders in the engineering world of tomorrow.

Iota Chapter of Phi Psi, national honor textile fraternity was chartered at Clemson in April, 1927, thereby being the first Greek letter fraternity at Clemson.

Members of Phi Psi are selected on the basis of scholastic standing, character, and their general interest and activity. Phi Psi men are leaders in the textile industry throughout the nation, and the student members are constantly urged to raise the scholastic standing of the textile school.

Members of Phi Psi are linked together by a bond of mutual interest in the profession they represent.

Alpha Zeta, the national honorary agricultural fraternity, exists to bring together students who are to become agricultural leaders in later life. Only students who possess the highest character, and leadership ability, are eligible for membership. To accomplish the greatest good, the fraternity serves as a stimulus to further effort, rather than a goal to be reached. The principle aim of the fraternity, service, is always held uppermost in the minds of the members.

The Alpha Tau Alpha is a national honorary agricultural education fraternity. Clemson is the Kappa chapter of the organization. Its main purpose is to develop a true professional spirit in the teaching of agriculture, to help train teachers of agriculture who shall be rural leaders in their communities, and to foster a fraternal spirit among students in teacher training for vocational agriculture.

The fraternity also has business meetings to discuss anything of interest to its members, and has socials and banquets so the members can come together and have a good time.

Another activity of the fraternity is to give the agricultural education sophomore with the highest grade a gift.

MU BETA PSI

Delta chapter of Mu Beta Psi, National Honorary Musical Fraternity, was organized January 16, 1937. Since then its strides have become quite rapid, and today, through its work with the Artists' Series, has been recognized as one of the leading honor service fraternities at Clemson.

Members are chosen for their character, personality, musical service, and ability.

The purpose of Mu Beta Psi is to promote better fellowship among musicians of the various organizations of the different colleges, and to advance music to its proper place as an educational subject.

Since its organization in 1932 with only a few members, the Animal Husbandry Club has grown to one of the leading agricultural organizations on the campus, with over forty members.

At the bi-monthly meetings, problems and factors pertaining to the advancement of better live stock for the South are discussed. Usually a faculty member offers students technical advice and encouragement at these meetings.

Professor E. R. Houser and Professor R. R. Ritchie, co-advisors of the club, have been very instrumental in its advancement.

The "Biddies" started cackling in the fall of 1930 and have achieved widespread recognition as the outstanding social club on the Clemson campus.

Alpha Chi Psi "Biddies" are selected for their high personal character, leadership, and the gift to get along with people.

At social events put on by the club, it aims to bring together some of the leaders of the school, thus establishing an intimate friendship among them and raising the social standard of Clemson.

In a school such as Clemson where military life is the order of the day, and clannishness is prevalent, there is a definite need for organizations that are purely social in their lines of activity.

Sigma Epsilon is the result of such a need. In its members, past and present, there exists a feeling that is not found in other types of organizations.

Beta Sigma Chi was organized in 1934 by a group of Charleston boys to promote good will and fellowship among Clemson students from the "low" country. Since then, it has become one of the most active organizations at Clemson; each year it sponsors several dances, and awards a scholarship to some deserving high school student from Charleston County.

The membership is restricted to twenty-five, and only those boys who live within a fifty-mile radius of Charleston are eligible. Initiates are selected on their personality, and their ability to fit into the fraternity's programs.

This organization constitutes the headquarters for all types of forensic activities at Clemson. Its main purpose is to offer an opportunity for Clemson men to learn to be at ease on their feet and to practice speaking before an audience. Other than this, the members engage in inter-collegiate speaking which includes debate, oratory, impromptu, and after-dinner speeches. The officers are authorized to determine how, when, and where Clemson will participate in inter-collegiate contests.

In the past two years the members have initiated a state-wide Forensic tournament which is held here every spring.

Membership is open to all cadets who show interest in forensic affairs and make formal application, however they must be approved by a two-thirds vote.

COMPANY COMMANDERS' CLUB

The Company Commanders' Club was organized in 1941. The club was formed to bring about a better spirit of fellowship and co-operation among the company commanders.

Under this plan any questions, problems, or ideas, which may arise can be discussed so as to have uniformity of detail over the entire student body.

The club has sponsored such things as the Christmas seal drive through the barracks, movement to increase attendance at the concert series, and numerous other things.

To serve, and coordinate cadet activities are the cardinal principles upon which this organization was founded.

THE GLEE CLUB

The Clemson College Glee Club is made up of a group of cadets who have some talent for music and wish to express that talent through choral work. The Glee Club has been completely reorganized, and is under the direction of Mr. E. E. Waite, and is presided over by President A. H. Rumsey. This year's Glee Club has the largest enrollment in several years, with an enrollment of eighty-five boys. Each year the club makes several trips, with the Columbia Music Festival being the highlight of the year.

The Epsilon Chapter of Strawberry Leaf, national honorary forensic society, was formed at Clemson in 1940. Members are chosen from the Calhoun Forensic Society who are outstanding in forensic activities.

Strawberry Leaf each year presents an award to the winning debating team in the Calhoun Forensic Society and assists in the planning and presentation of the Calhoun State Forensic Tourney held at Clemson each spring.

The principal object in forming a chapter of Strawberry Leaf at Clemson was to promote an interest in the different phases of public speaking and reward sincere effort and accomplishment on the part of the cadets.

THE 4-H CLUB

The Clemson College 4-H Club was organized in 1930 by former 4-H Club members who were interested in keeping up the spirit, ideals, and leadership development for which 4-H is noted. Leadership among Clemson's 48 college 4-H members is developed by preparing and conducting programs, by taking part in club activities, and by cooperating with the state 4-H department.

Some of the activities of the college 4-H Club each year are: assistance with state 4-H rally; exchange of programs with other college 4-H clubs; sponsoring educational exhibit at Clemson Agricultural Exhibitions; and participating in the Interstate 4-H Collegiate Conference composed of college 4-H clubs from Georgia, North Carolina, and South Carolina. Two meetings of the club are held monthly. The members pledge their heads to clearer thinking, their hearts to greater loyalty, their hands to larger service, and their health to better living, for their club, their college, and their country—"To Make The Best Better."

ALMA MATER

Where the Blue Ridge yawns its greatness.
Where the Tigers play;
Here the sons of dear old Clemson
Reign supreme always.

CHORUS

Dear old Clemson, we will triumph,
And with all our might,
That the Tiger's roar may echo
O'er the mountain height.

We will dream of greater conquests
For the past is grand.
And her sons have fought and conquered
Every foreign land.

Where the mountains smile in grandeur
O'er the hill and dale,
Here the Tiger lair is nestling
Swept by storm and gale.

We are brothers strong in manhood
For we work and strive;
And our Alma Mater reigneth
Ever in our lives.

A LAST WORD

Ours have been four happy years, and we have enjoyed them to the utmost. Now we feel that we are able to give our best for the preservation of our American ideals of life. Some of us that fight for this great cause will not return, but those of us who do will be able to give a good account of ourselves and our Alma Mater.

Before we leave let us again give our thanks to the innumerable men who have made it possible to give you this edition of the 1942 Taps.

Because of the national emergency which now exists, ours may be the last Taps for a few years to come. If this is so, we hope that we have given you something that you will cherish with the years. To the future Cadets of a great Clemson growing greater we leave this Taps along with its predecessors as a standard and a goal for you to surpass.

We hope you enjoy this book as much as we have enjoyed preparing it for you.

THE

PRESIDENT

THE UNITED STATES OF AMERICA

To all who shall see these presents, greeting:

Know Ye, that reposing special trust and confidence in the patriotism, valor, fidelity and abilities of John Henry Doe in the I do appoint him Second Lieutenant, Infantry

Army of the United States

such appointment to date from the first day of June nineteen hundred and forty-two. He is therefore carefully and diligently to discharge the duty of the office to which he is appointed by doing and performing all manner of things thereunto belonging.

He will enter upon active duty under this commission only when specifically ordered to such active duty by competent authority.

And I do strictly charge and require all Officers and Soldiers under his command when he shall be employed on active duty, to be obedient to his orders as an officer of his grade and position. And he is to observe and follow such orders and directions, from time to time, as he shall receive from me, or the future President of the United States of America, or the General or other Superior Officers set over him, according to the rules and discipline of War.

This commission evidences an appointment in the Army of the United States under the provisions of section 37, National Defense Act, as amended, and is to continue in force for a period of five years from the date above specified, and during the pleasure of the President of the United States for the time being.

Done at the City of Washington, this first day of June in the year of our Lord one thousand nine hundred and forty-two and of the Independence of the United States of America the one hundred and sixty-sixth

AUGUST 1, 1938

The Clemson Agricultural and Mechanical College of South Carolina

To All Who Shall See These Presents, Greetings:

Know Ye, that reposing special trust and confidence in the character, loyalty and scholastic abilities of John Henry Doe, and upon the recommendation of the Professor of Military Science and Tactics, I hereby appoint him Captain in the Clemson Corps of Cadets to date from the 9th day of September, nineteen hundred and forty-one.

He will therefore faithfully and diligently perform the duties of the office to which he has been appointed. And I do strictly charge and require all cadets under his command to be obedient to his orders as a Commissioned Officer of the Clemson Cadet Corps, and to observe and follow such orders or directions from time to time, as he shall receive from me or other superior officers set over him by the Clemson Cadet Regulations.

Done at Clemson, South Carolina, this 1st day of October, in the year of our Lord one thousand nine hundred and forty-one.

R. F. Poole
President.
